REFLECTION:

All the three readings of today's liturgy highlight the element of faith in the life of a Christian. The first reading from Habakkuk underlines the Jewish belief that the righteous will live by faith. In the Second Reading Paul exhorts Timothy to get confirmed in his faith in Jesus Christ. In the Gospel Jesus assures his disciples that even a little faith is sufficient to work miracles. In fact, in the Gospels we come across four statements of Jesus concerning faith. First, before performing a miracle Jesus demands faith:

Do you believe that I can do this? Second, after the miracle he gives credit to the faith of the concerned person: "Your faith has made you well." Thirdly, he confronts his disciples during the storm in the sea on account of their lack of faith in his power: "Why are you so afraid? Where is your faith?"

Finally, he appreciates the faith of the centurion who confessed that he was not worthy of having Jesus under his roof: "I have not seen such faith in the whole of Israel."

However, one also needs to be cautious not to take a miracle as the foundation of faith. It is faith that is the foundation of a miracle because faith is not simply devotion and prayer. Faith is not even theology or knowledge of one's religion. Faith is a commitment to one's God. Blessed John Paul II says,

"Your behaviour during crisis situations such as temptations and sufferings will reveal to you, your level of faith in God." Which of Jesus' statement best suits my present level of faith?
